Plays
Title	Description	Qty	Price
After the Storm	By Richard Shanda, PM. A short one-act play. A sequel to "The Fight" using most of the same characters.	1	$3.00
And Not Forsake Them	A tender little story of a widow with two small children left penniless in an unfriendly town, and the brotherly way in which members of the lodge of her late husband solve her problem without a call on lodge resources greater than they can bear or injury to her pride. (Requires a stage and one interior scene.)	1	$3.00
Gift in Secret	Proverbs XXI-14. "A gift in secret pacifieth anger..." An interesting FBI exposition of the art of determining what typewriter wrote a specific document. Doric Lodge has received several anonymous letters, all sending donations for general or special charitable purposes.	1	$3.00
Greater Love Hath No Man	Doric Lodge makes a Mason of a dying man, regarded by all in the town of Aaronton as a hero and benefactor, the more so that he is poor, unlearned, humble.	1	$3.00
Greatest of These	St. Anne's Lodge has a mortgage it cannot pay, expects to lose its temple, and thus faces the bitter necessity of surrendering its charter.	1	$3.00
He That Believeth	Happy plans for an initiation of the only son of Doric's most prominent and wealthy member are interrupted by tragic news.	1	$3.00
He Which is Accused	A story of the last days of the war. A German-American brother of Doric Lodge is accused, apparently upon undeniable evidence, of willingly serving in the German army.	1	$3.00
Hearts of Fathers	A curious contrast between apparent comedy and actual tragedy. A circus clown in costume comes to lodge, there to attempt to interest a father in a disowned baby girl.	1	$3.00
If a Man Die ...	A Masonic fantasy in dramatic form concerned with the age old problem and dearest hope of mankind: "If a man die, shall he live again?"	1	$3.00
Judge Not!	Tense with strained curiosity as to "what comes next."	1	$3.00
Rose Upon the Altar	By Carl H. Claudy. A Masonic play in Two Acts and an Interlude.	1	$3.00
The Fight	By M. W. Ralph J. Pollard, Maine. A short one-act play depicting a quarrel between Colonial and Loyalist Brothers at an after-lodge supper.	1	$3.00
To Entertain Strangers	A profane is asked to come to lodge while it is at refreshment to testify as to the happenings incident to the fire which destroyed an important war plant.	1	$3.00
Treasures of Darkness	Isaiah XLV-3. "And I will give thee the treasures of darkness, and hidden riches of secret places..."	1	$3.00
